VITA

Jen Krause
Young Director & Photographer

Jen Krause is a Berlin wonderwoman with many talents: directing, photography and such a unique contemporary style.
She studied communication design and never stopped working on herself and her work.

Jen started working as a camerawoman and found her passion in directing. With big visions and a next level image imagination she creates a modern universe.

Jen's passion and creative nature infects everyone around her.