

VITA

Despite the Scandinavian name, Jan is only 18% Danish.

The rest is from Palatine, where the Riesling grows and from the north sea, right behind the deik.

Jan Rasmus Voss

Director

After he went to film school at HFF Munich, Jan went to NYC where he assisted numerous fashion photographers and lived a poor mans sexy life.

Here he met some great mentors.

Back in Berlin in 2009, he founded his studio and has been shooting TVCs and music videos ever since, as well as the odd album cover and portrait.

Jan has a special website for his photography, you can check it out on the link below.

Jan is driven by the belief that the best way to make things happen is by simply doing them.

While he would shoot anything from cheese to toothpaste in the beginning, he now focuses on visual impact and storytelling.

Sometimes his work involves cars and ideally it is a little funny.

Jan now lives in Berlin with his kids.