Scotch Carlsen
Young directing DOP Duo

Scotch Carlsen is the symbiosis of cinematic looks, analog vibes, good music and always a bit of punk attitude. On set we split our brainstem to director and camera half and cerebellum left already knows exactly what cerebellum right wants.

We are a team and train our common sense of taste non-stop. Every fantasy is allowed, even if it pushes us again to build a devil machine that can only be controlled with a playstation controller.

Since our studies, we rarely write, screw, narf around and drink alone.
This is definitely the coolest thing about being a duo - and it's a huge advantage for our smooth communication on set.

We are Scotch Carlsen. 2 bodies / 1 brain. Oh!
